PUBLIC ORDER TRAINING

NASTEC – THE HOME OF SPECIALIST INTERNATIONAL POLICE TRAINING

NASTEC is a police training company, with its headquarters in the UK and the USA, specialising in the training of overseas police forces in a variety of policing skills.

Our aim is to provide police forces with a basis to incorporate international best practice into their existing processes and procedures, through training methods, which provide an incremental method of improving performance and effectiveness.

The foundation of our training is understanding a client police force: its culture, working practices, legal system and skill base; and working with senior officers to develop training courses and assurance to meet the development goals set in the client police force’s own strategy.

We recognise that police forces want to embrace change and that that is best done through their police officers having eagerness and enthusiasm to support change driven by inspirational training.

It is this inspirational training which is at the core of NASTEC training methods and staff motivation.

OUR SERVICES

NASTEC’s management team is highly experienced in delivering a comprehensive range of police training. NASTEC acknowledges cultures and working practices can be different. We seek to exchange knowledge and information and to work collegiately with client police forces to design programmes based on research, experience and client requirements. We recognise police forces want to embrace change and that is best done through their police officers having eagerness and enthusiasm to support change driven by inspirational training. Our training team is highly experienced in delivering a comprehensive range of police training ranging from leadership training to general and community policing to counter-terrorism, public order and specialist skills

SUPPORTING STRATEGIC PLANNING, OPTION DEVELOPMENT AND OPERATIONAL DELIVERY

NASTEC is uniquely positioned to deliver advice and guidance across all elements of police leadership structures, through our staff, who have delivered success at the highest levels in policing and operated in a range of challenging environments. Client specific programmes can be developed to include training strategies for local implementation enabling local trainers to respond to local issues.

Our team can support your organisation in the following areas:

- Delivery of training to Police leadership in Strategy and Tactics
- Assisting Clients to develop appropriate training and support mechanisms to enable an effective response to challenges in dynamic situations
- Embedding subject matter experts to transfer knowledge - enabling mitigation of risks
- Review and audit support for current training delivery.
- Executive coaching and mentoring in the specialist area of Police Training

PUBLIC ORDER COMMAND TRAINING GOLD–SILVER–BRONZE COMMAND STRUCTURE

GOLD

The gold commander is in overall control of his organisation's resources at a planned operation such an international sporting event. This person will not be on site, but at a distant control room, gold command, where he will formulate the strategy for dealing with any incidents. If the gold commanders for various organisations at an incident are not co-located, they will be in constant touch with each other by videoconference or telephone.

SILVER

The Silver Commander is the tactical commander who manages tactical implementation following the strategic direction given by Gold and makes it into sets of actions that are completed by Bronze. Depending on the organisation, they may or may not be at scene. This could be located in a command vehicle at or near the scene or a remote building such as the police HQ. This role is usually a senior officer as opposed to a police constables or sergeant.

BRONZE

A bronze commander directly controls an organisation's resources at the incident and will be found with their staff working at the scene. A commander or representative from each involved responder will be present and take direction from their organisation, with the overall effort generally coordinated by the police.

COURSE INCLUDES:

- Understanding International Organising Committee requirements
- Understanding the impact of international audiences
- Risk assessment
- Working with the private sector
- Drafting a concept of operations
- Multi-agency impact
- Supporting policies
- Standard Operating Procedures

FORWARD INTELLIGENCE TEAM TRAINING

Overt Filming by Evidence Gathering Teams is an effective police tactic used for the prevention and detection of crime, the maintenance of public order and the gathering of intelligence in support of such policing aims. Overt filming includes the deployment of staff utilising equipment for the purpose of capturing both still and video images. It should not be confused with surveillance or covert photography. Overt filming does not involve the use of public space fixed CCTV systems, where those systems are placed and maintained by bodies other than the Police.

Overt filming has the potential to make a significant contribution to policing purposes, and serves to reassure the public that police are engaged in dealing with local policing issues. The deployment of Forward Intelligence Teams assists in the identification of those involved in creating or planning disorder, thereby removing their anonymity and reducing the potential for disorder to occur.

COURSE INCLUDES:

- The collection of intelligence and information that allows for informed decisions to be made regarding the policing of the event in question
- The identification of community leaders and those in a position to assist through mediation
- The identification of areas of potential tension, such as prominent locations where local communities may be adversely affected by the policed event itself
- The identification of routes and means of transport in use by those attending the policed event
- The identification, cultivation and handling of informants in accordance with RIPA
- The utilisation of police powers to conduct searches
- Locating potential caches of items for use in disorder
